

Acknowledgements

This second edition of the Pennsylvania Dependency Benchbook Resource Companion was made possible through the assistance of many individuals. The Office of Children and Families in the Courts would like to acknowledge and thank the Honorable Max Baer, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and all of the Supreme Court Justices for their support of this Resource Companion and dependency court-related matters, in general.

We want to extend special recognition and appreciation to the Honorable Kevin Dougherty, Supreme Court Justice, whose leadership and support continue to improve Pennsylvania's child welfare system. One of the original Resource Companion creators, Justice Dougherty, is keenly aware of the decisions being made in dependency courtrooms and the knowledge needed for such.

We would also like to thank the Honorable Craig Miller, President Judge, Court of Common Pleas of Clinton County, Chairperson for the Dependency Benchbook Committee and all Committee members for their dedication and guidance over the many months in which this Resource Companion was revised. In particular, we commend the Committee for the countless hours of document reading and reviewing, which led to the selection of primary and additional resources. We would like to recognize the Committee's commitment to upholding the Mission and Guiding Principles for Pennsylvania's Child Dependency System and the Dependency Benchbook by selecting Resource Companion topic areas that connect all three documents.

Finally, we want to thank the many judges, hearing officers, attorneys, and child welfare professionals who will use this tool to help the children and families of Pennsylvania.